

Cyber-Wars and Information Struggles

Bill C-51 and Knock-on Effects on Surveillance and Internet Censorship: The Law of Intended (?) Consequences

Wednesday, Sept 23
12:00 p.m. - 1:20 p.m.
NCB 293

Lecture by: Dr. Craig Forcese

Respondents: Datejie Green and Dr. Sam Trosow

Craig Forcese is Associate Professor at the Faculty of Law, University of Ottawa. He teaches public international law, national security law, administrative law and public law/legislation. A leading critic of Bill C-51, he has, with his colleague Dr. Kent Roach (University of Toronto), authored several analyses of the legislation. He will be joining us via Skype to present a state-of-play discussion of the Bill, its problems and of the opposition it has provoked.

Datejie Green is FIMS Asper Fellow; one of the topics she will address in that role is cyber-security for precarious international media workers.

Sam Trosow is Associate Professor in FIMS and the Faculty of Law; he has been active in the campaign against Bill C51.

Everyone is welcome. Refreshments provided.
